

Audio 11: Conclusion — The Story Does Not End Here
Becoming Texas Audio Guides

Alex C.: We have explored two of Texas's flags: the French and Spanish. A case could be made that a flag representing Native American tribes should be added to represent the Native Americans of Texas who didn't feel the need to plant a flag in land that was already theirs.

The story doesn't end here but our research project does. We hope y'all learned a lot about context, unintended consequences, and the history of Texas in the 1500-1700s.